

Privacy Policy

At SecondBrain, accessible from www.oursecondbrain.com, one of our main priorities is the privacy of our visitors. This Privacy Policy document contains types of information collected and recorded by SecondBrain and how we use it.

If you have additional questions or require more information about our Privacy Policy, please get in touch with us.

Collection and Use of Personal Information

Personal Information means any information we receive, collect and store on our website or information provided to us in any other way. Your personal health information will be used for the specific reasons of health consultations and in no way will be shared with third parties.

When you conduct a transaction on our website, as part of the process, we collect the personal information you give us, such as your name, address, and email address.

We also collect personally identifiable information such as payment details (including credit card information), comments, feedback, product reviews, recommendations, and personal profiles.

Use of Personal Information

Your personal health information will be used for the specific reasons of health consultations and in no way will be shared with third parties.

We may use your contact information to email you or send other communications such as newsletters, nutrition information, event program information, and additional listings that may interest you.

Why do you collect such personal information?

Our mission is to improve the health of our clients through high-quality, science-based nutrition knowledge, and one way we do that is by providing appropriate information. We do not provide your name and address or email to outside parties. All the information you provide is considered confidential.

We collect Non-personal and Personal Information for the following purposes:

- To establish and manage client relationships.
- To market or otherwise provide SecondBrain's products and services.
- Establish and maintain commercial relationships with clients, including issuing invoices, administering accounts, and collecting and processing payments.
- To understand and respond to client needs and preferences.

- To distribute newsletters and other informational e-mail communications, conference information and other material to individuals on our mail and e-mail lists, including e-mail service providers.
- To develop and manage SecondBrain's business and operations.
- To comply with any legal or regulatory requirements or provisions and for any other purpose to which you consent.

Third-Party Privacy Policies

SecondBrain's Privacy Policy does not apply to other advertisers or websites. You can read the Privacy Policies of Immunotec, our product provider, here.

Retention of Personal Data

SecondBrain retains personal data for as long as necessary to provide the services and fulfill your requested transactions. If your data is no longer required for the legal or business purposes for which it is processed, we will generally destroy or anonymize that information.

How Do You Opt-out of Personal Information?

You can opt out of our marketing emails at any time by contacting us at maria@oursecondbrain.com

Online Privacy Policy Only

This Privacy Policy applies only to our online activities and is valid for website visitors regarding the information they share and collect in SecondBrain. This policy does not apply to any information collected offline or via channels other than this website.

Consent

By using our website, you now consent to our Privacy Policy and agree to its Terms and Conditions.
